- A. Providing benefits for women and children is a societal responsibility which can be funded in a large country through a combination of general taxation and contributory payments.
- B. This should further lead to closer scrutiny of the difficulties faced by unorganised workers who fall beyond the scope of any worthwhile labour welfare measures.
- C. The enhancement of paid maternity leave for women in the organised sector to 26 weeks from 12 is a progressive step.
- D. The reported move to restrict even this meagre benefit to the first child for budgetary reasons is retrograde and must be given up.
- E. Positive though it is, the amended law is expected to cover only 1.8 million women, a small subset of women in the workforce.
- F. For many poor millions in the unorganised sector, the only support available is a small conditional cash benefit of Rs. 6,000 during pregnancy and lactation offered under the Maternity Benefit Programme.
- G. It is wholly welcome that such a benefit is being introduced with an amendment to the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961.
