1st of its kind

On the day the United States marked two decades since the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, the Taliban triumphantly hoisted their flag over the Afghan presidential palace to start off their new regime. The unprecedented 9/11 attacks prompted the U.S. not only to invade landlocked, strategically located Afghanistan but also to launch a global war on terror. Yet, the U.S.-led war on terror has yielded no tangible results.

A President's 'blunder'

If anything, it has made the world less safe. The scourge of transnational terrorism has only spread deeper and wider in the world. In fact, the U.S. President Joe Biden's blunder in facilitating the terrorist takeover of Afghanistan raises the nagging question whether the seeds of another 9/11 have been sown.

blunder mistake

Mr. Biden will be (A)/ remembered in history (B)/for making the world's deadliest terrorists(C)/ – the Pakistan-reared Taliban – great again(D). Historians will be baffled that the U.S. expended considerable blood and treasure in a protracted war to ultimately help its enemy ride triumphantly back to power. The war killed 2,448 American soldiers, 1,144 allied troops, more than 66,000 Afghan security personnel, and countless numbers of civilians.

The Taliban's defeat of the world's most powerful military represents the greatest victory of violent Islamists in the modern history of jihadism, with the Taliban calling it "the most joyful day of our existence". The triumph over (A)/ the "Great Satan" is certain (B)/to inspiring other Islamist and(C)/ terrorist groups across the world(D).

It is worrying allies

America's close partner, (A)/India, with its location right next to the Afghanistan-Pakistan belt,(B)/ is like to be one big loser from(C)/ Mr. Biden's Afghan debacle(D). The rejuvenated epicentre for terrorism next door could leave India less space to counter an expansionist China at a time when Indian and Chinese forces remain locked in multiple border standoffs since last year.

Despite of the Afghan fiasco, Mr. Biden plans to withdraw from Iraq this year(A)/, in keeping with what he declared in his (B)/August 31 address to the nation: (C)/“This decision about Afghanistan is not just about Afghanistan(D). It’s about ending an era of major military operations to remake other countries.
