✓ The President of the USA, Barack Hussain Obama will be on his maiden visit to India. That a President of the USA is visiting India in his first term, within the first 24 months of his tenure, undoubtedly denotes the position India occupies in the American foreign policy calculus. It is also an indicator that the relationship between the world's two largest democracies is on a strong footing. India and United states politically and economically play a significant role in global arena . While the US is the world's strongest democracy, India is the largest. Similarly, while the US is the world's largest economy, India is the second fastest growing major economy. The US is India's largest export destination and also one of the leading foreign investors in India. Further, with the Indian economy estimated to grow to 90% of the US economy by 2050. The growing Indo -US relationship will be a decisive force shaping the contours of the world economy in 21 century. In a move to further improve economic relations, both countries had two rounds of exploratory talks in the first half of the 2008 on the proposed Bilateral Investment Treaty, and decided to start formal negotiations soon. The proposed agreement would enable certification of Indian aviation and aeronautic products by the US authorities. Further more India and US will also be soon signing the Totalization agreement to promote Indo-US cooperation on social security. The agreement will be between the US social security administration and the Indian Ministry of Overseas Indian Affairs. India with more than one billion citizens is often characterized as a nascent major power and 'Natural Partner' of the United States one, that many analysts view as a potential counter weight to China's growing clout.

QUESTION 21

Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?

- (1) India and China will also be soon signing the Totalisation Agreement.
- (2) The visit of the president denotes the position India occupies in American foreign policy calculus.
- (3) The U.S. is India's largest export destination and also one of the leading foreign investors in India.
- ☒ (4) Both 2 and 3
- (5) None of these
