It is a pity that we do not have good books on insurance written by Indian authors (Q1) to the steady growth of literature on the subject in other countries especially, the USA whose insurance laws and (Q2) are very much similar to those of our country. And students studying in our colleges and the millions of insurance employees appearing for various insurance examinations have to (Q3) depend on books written by foreign authors. As these books mainly deal with the problems of the insurance industry of foreign countries, the (Q4) of the insurance scene in India and the various legal (Q5) and insurance procedures remain very weak. To (Q6) the insurance employees and the college students who have opted for (Q7) courses in insurance with different aspects of theory and practice of insurance we should have good and (Q8) textbooks.

The book under review written by V.M.R. Nair himself an experienced and (Q9) expert on insurance law based on leading Indian cases will be found very useful by students of the insurance sector as a (Q10) guide to the principles of insurance.

It is a pity that we do not have good books on insurance written by Indian authors (Q1) to the steady growth of literature on the subject in other countries especially, the USA whose insurance laws

Blank No. 1

- A. Paving
- B. Corresponding
- C. Following
- D. Emphasize
- E. Correcting

The sentence wants to convey that despite the fact that US and Indian laws regarding insurance are almost similar, there is not much contribution of Indian authors on the subject.

and (Q2) are very much similar to those of our country.

Blank No. 2

- A. Process
- B. Product
- C. Notes
- D. Currency
- E. Procedures

Contextually and grammatically, ‘procedures’ fits the blank most appropriately. Also following the parallelism rule, the sentence needs a word to combine with “laws” in the context of insurance terminology. Seeking a plural noun, none except “procedures” fits the position so well.

And students studying in our colleges and the millions of insurance employees appearing for various insurance examinations have to (Q3) depend on books written by foreign authors.
