Rise in unvaccinated children in India

Their number doubled to over two million owing to pandemic, says data published by WHO, UNICEF

ARTICLE

The number of children in India who were unvaccinated or missed their first dose of diphtheria tetanus pertussis (DTP) combined vaccine doubled due to the pandemic, rising from 1.4 million in 2019 to 2.7 million in 2021, as the world recorded the largest sustained decline in childhood vaccinations in approximately 30 years, according to official data published by the WHO and UNICEF.

The increase in zero dose, or those who missed their first dose of diphtheria tetanus pertussis, between 2019 and 2021 is the “first time ever there has been a decline in evaluated coverage in immunisation for India as a whole,” Dr. Mainak Chatterjee, Health Specialist at UNICEF India, told The Hindu.

ARTICLE

Though immunization coverage continues to decline the world over, India was able to arrest the trend between 2020 and 2021. The number of children with zero dose rose sharply to three million in 2020. But a further backsliding was prevented and the number dropped to 2.7 million in 2021 due to catchup programmes such as the third Intensified Mission Indradhanush (IMI), notes the WHO UNICEF report. Nearly 25 million children are born every year in India. Until the pandemic, India steadily improved immunization coverage from 43% during the National Family Health Survey (NFHS) 3 (2005-2006), to 62% in the NFHS 4 between 2015 and 2016 and the NFHS 5 between 2019 and 2021.

ARTICLE

India started the fourth round of IMI from February, which is expected to further reduce the number of unvaccinated children in the next round of WHO and UNICEF estimates of national immunization coverage in 2023, adds Dr. Chatterjee. Annually, India vaccinates more than 30 million pregnant women and 27 million children through the Universal Immunization Programme.
