West Bengal – Football and Table Tennis

Known for the legendary East Bengal vs. Mohan Bagan rivalry, West Bengal has renowned football craze. But another popular sport in the state is table tennis, with players like Soumyajit Ghosh and Poulomi Ghatak raising the Indian tricolor high and encouraging table tennis as a sport.

Odisha/Jharkhand – Archery Odisha is known as the sports capital of India, as they chose to sponsor the Indian Hockey team. However, Jharkhand and Odisha are not exclusive to hockey, with talent like Deepika Kumari and Komalika Bari winning laurels for India in Archery. The sport's popularity is evident in Odisha's establishment of an archery association to train people for the sport.

Himachal Pradesh – Winter Sports

Shiva Keshavan is known as India's sole Luger is one of the many encouraging factors in Indian winter sports. Popular in the state of Himachal Pradesh, one of the very few snowy regions in the subcontinent, winter sports are gaining increasing popularity

Jammu & Kashmir – Combat Sports

The crown of India, Jammu and Kashmir have seen athletes bring medals for the country. Combat sports is popular to such an extent that the state has many martial arts schools and is also home to sqay, a native martial art that is also practiced armed with swords.

Manipur – Weightlifting and Boxing
Home to sensational athletes like Mary Kom, Jeremy Lalrinnunga, and Mirabai Chanu, Manipur has become the home for boxing and weightlifting. It has seen an increased popularity in both sports and has also helped India secure medals by athletes native to the state.

Goa – Football FC Goa has die-hard fans that love and adore the sport of football. However, the sport has more than just digital influence and sees many youth participating in the sport casually or in the hopes of making it into the ISL or the World Cup.
